WEDNESDAY EVENING, FEB. 11, 1903.

"I've been thinking of it ever since I started on my present trip," said the drummer thoughtfully, "and I'm hanged if I can make up my mind just what she was aiming at. You see, some time ago I realized that, traveling about the country as I am, I was taking a good many chances; so I decided to take out an accident insurance policy.

"'My dear,' said I to my wife after I had acted upon the thought, 'I have done something today that I should have done when I first started on the road. I have taken out an accident insurance policy on my life. If I am killed, the company pays $5,000. If I am injured, then I get $25 a week.'

"'For how long?' she asked.

"'As long as I am laid up.' "'But it might be only a week.'

"And you would only be entitled to

" 'That is all.'

"'And if you get killed you get $5,-"'You would,' I answered patiently. "Well, the next morning when I started on my trip she threw her arms around me and cried: "'Now, John, for heaven's sake what ever you do don't get injured!" "-Detroit Free Press.

An Artist's Training.

Rosa Bonheur used to say that her youth was one of great poverty; then she would add some droll stories about the family method of regulating its finance. The studio was a collection of odds and ends, and M. Benheur knew how to turn that disorder to account.

When he received money for his work, he would take a handful of coin and throw it at random about the room. Then in times of stress, when there was apparently not a farthing left in the house, the entire family would set to work searching in nooks and corners. Sometimes they would find a five franc piece, and that warded off starvation.

To perfect herself in her study of animais young Rosa spent days in a slaughter house. The men were perplexed at seeing a young woman there and sometimes made it disagreeable for her, but good M. Emile, a butcher of great strength, announced that whosoever annoyed her would have to reckon with Then she was able to work undisturbed.

Baccarat.

Baccarat is a very simple game. The dealer and each side of the table have two or three cards. The object is to get as near nine as possible, and tens and court cards do not count. If the two first cards dealt do not together amount to five, the player asks for another. If above five, he does not. The sole question in doubt is whether a player whose two cards together make five ought to draw a third card or not. Because of this doubt it has been ruled by French courts that baccarat is not a game of chance, and yet it is a mathe matical certainty that either the chances of bettering the hand are im proved by drawing a third card or diminished. Considering, therefore, the large sums that are risked at this game, it is somewhat curious that no one has ever taken the trouble to work out the

A Narrow Escape.

An actor named Suett having offended another actor, the aggrieved party was determined on revenge and there-fore waited at the theater door to punish him.

The night was extremely wet and dark, and as the actors passed, most of whom were muffled in their cloaks, the enraged man was obliged to inquire of enraged man was obliged to inquire of each of them lest he should cudged the wrong one.

At length Suett arrived.

Rushing in, wrapped in his cloak and drenched with rain, he was addressed with the usual query:

"Are you Suett?"

"No," replied he; "I'm dripping," and so passed safely into the theater.

A Great Wheel.

Laxey, in the Isle of Man, is the headquarters of the lead mines of the island, more than half the ore being obtained there. It is celebrated also for its great wheel, which was erected in 1854. Its diameter is seventy-two feet, and so splendidly is it set that there is no oscillation, and it has been going practically ever since its erection.

The Easy Pill.

The Easy Pill.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers do not gripe nor weaken the system. They cure biliousness, jaundice, constipation and inactive livers, by arousing the secretions, moving the bowels gently, yet effectually, and giving such tone and strength to the glands of the stomach, liver and bowels that the cause of the trouble is removed entirely. These famous little pills exert a decided tonic effect upon the organ involved, and if their use is continued for a few days there will be no return of the trouble, E. S. Leadbeater & Son.
